Saturday, May 2, 2026

COMMUNITY COLLEGE OF PHILADELPHIA

ON BEHALF OF the Board of Trustees and the entire Community College of Philadelphia community, I proudly welcome you to Commencement 2026. This occasion represents the most meaningful celebration of student achievement in our academic year and affirms the College's enduring mission to expand access, foster opportunity, and promote academic excellence.

We honor the graduates whose determination and perseverance have brought them to this milestone. Your journey has been marked by growth, purpose and resolve. The knowledge and skills you have gained at CCP will serve as a strong foundation as you pursue new goals and embrace the challenges ahead. The College is deeply proud of all you have accomplished.

Commencement also recognizes the dedicated faculty and staff whose expertise and encouragement helped to transform potential into achievement. Today is an equally important moment for families and friends whose unwavering support and sacrifice made students' success possible. Your presence affirms the power of community and shared commitment.

As Community College of Philadelphia commemorates its 60th anniversary and 60th Commencement ceremony, the Class of 2026 carries forward a legacy defined by possibility and progress. You join generations of alumni who have used education as a catalyst for personal growth, professional success and positive change.

Congratulations to the Class of 2026. Thank you for enriching the CCP community. You will always remain an essential part of our Pride.

Sincerely,

Dr. Alycia A. Marshall
President

Academic Regalia

THE COLORFUL REGALIA worn by academicians is steeped in tradition, dating back to the ecclesiastical garb of the Middle Ages. Adaptations from ecclesiastical to academic dress began in early European universities, which were founded by the church. University faculty and students wore the adapted robes for distinction and warmth. The University of Cambridge is cited as the first to use the academic gown.

Representatives of American universities met in the early 1890s and agreed upon a standard style of academic attire. The Intercollegiate Code, revised in 1932 and again in 1959, is followed today by American colleges and universities, except for a few schools, which continue to use the styles of England.

Gowns are traditionally black; however, some colleges and universities have authorized use of a color symbolic of the institution. Associate and bachelor's gowns have pointed sleeves and are designed to be worn closed. Master's and specialist gowns have long, closed sleeves with an arc near the bottom and an opening for the arm. Doctoral gowns are faced with wide velvet panels and have bell-shaped sleeves with three horizontal velvet bars.

Caps, originally round, are typically square mortarboards. Some universities have adopted a doctor's cap, which traditionally has a gold tassel, with a soft crown instead of the mortarboard.

TASSELS

At Community College of Philadelphia, a gold tassel is worn by students, signifying that they are all members of one lion pride, exuding the same strength and courage of our fearless lion leader, Roary.

HOODS

Hoods, which originally were attached to the gown and could be slipped over the head for warmth, are the most colorful articles of clothing for specialist, master's, and doctoral recipients. The color of the lining of the hood represents the university awarding the degree. The color of the facing of the hood reflects the academic discipline of the wearer's highest degree.

Colors that may be seen among the marching faculty and their corresponding fields of study include brown (fine arts), crimson (journalism), dark blue (philosophy), golden yellow (science), lemon yellow (library science), light blue (education), yellow-brown (commerce, business, accountancy), pink (music), purple (law), sage green (physical education), scarlet (theology), and white (arts, letters, humanities).

THE MACE

The ceremonial mace, a symbol of academic scholarship and integrity since the 11th century, is used to lead the academic procession at commencement and other special ceremonial occasions, signifying the importance of the event and the conformation of the academic process.

Ceremonial maces derive from maces used as weapons in the Middle Ages. The first maces were a heavy staff or club, made wholly or partly of metal and often spiked, and were used to break armor. The earliest ceremonial maces are believed to have been carried by sergeants-at-arms who protected kings in France and Germany. Over the centuries, maces became more decorative and symbolic. Maces are part of ceremonial traditions in the U.S. House of Representatives and the British House of Commons.

The tradition at Community College of Philadelphia's Commencement exercises is to honor a senior faculty member by being named the Mace Bearer. This honor may go to a retiring faculty member, or as is the case this year, to a past winner of the Christian R. and Mary F. Lindback Foundation Award for Excellence in Teaching.

GONFALONS

The gonfalons – or banners – are a recent addition to Community College of Philadelphia's Commencement exercises. The gonfalon is a long banner that is suspended from a crossbar. The name derives from medieval Italy, where "gonfaloni" was the name given to community meetings in Florence. Each neighborhood had its own flag and coat of arms, and the word gonfalon eventually came to be associated with the flag.

At Community College of Philadelphia, the "gonfalonieres" – the carriers of the banners – represent each degree type. The gonfalon bearer is an honor accorded to a member of the faculty from a department offering that degree type. The colors associated with each degree type mirror the tassel color worn by the degree candidates.

THE HONORABLE CHERELLE L. PARKER

*Mayor
City of Philadelphia*

Cherelle L. Parker is the 100th Mayor of the City of Philadelphia. Born to a single teenage mother and raised by her grandparents James and Dorothy Parker, Mayor Parker is a Philadelphia native. It was the power of a village—her family and her community—and their belief in the power of education that gave her the opportunity to succeed. A graduate of Philadelphia public schools, Mayor Parker was the first person in her family to go to college; earning her bachelor’s degree from Lincoln University, where she became a member of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc., then earning her master’s degree from the University of Pennsylvania. After receiving her undergraduate degree, she taught public school as a high school English teacher and ESL teacher working with immigrant children and adults.

Inspired to public service by Philadelphia Councilwoman Marian Tasco, whom she interned for, the future mayor worked in Tasco’s office and rose to serve as a senior staffer where she oversaw—among many other things—the implementation of all economic and community development initiatives that helped neighborhoods and business corridors thrive. By the time she left, she was one of Councilwoman Tasco’s most trusted advisors.

The future mayor was elected to the state house and served for 10 years representing Northwest Philadelphia, the 200th district. On winning her election, she made history as the youngest African-American woman elected to the state legislature. In Harrisburg, her colleagues elected her to chair the Philadelphia Delegation, and her leadership in this role earned her a reputation as one of the most effective legislators in Harrisburg. She was elected to City Council in 2015 to represent the 9th Council District and by 2019 was elected by her peers to serve as City Council Majority Leader. In the 2023 mayoral election, Cherelle L. Parker won a highly contested Democratic Primary and General Election to become the 100th Mayor of Philadelphia and the first woman to hold the office.

A mom, a teacher and a strong, experienced leader, Cherelle L. Parker is the first Black woman Mayor of Philadelphia, seeking to create a Safer, Cleaner, Greener city with access to economic opportunity for all. Mayor Parker spends her time outside the office at home in Northwest Philadelphia with her son, Langston, and their dog, Max.

Honors

Honor students are indicated by the following symbols:

- Cum Laude
- Magna Cum Laude
- Summa Cum Laude

Honor students are selected based on their academic records as of the end of Fall Semester 2025. It is possible that final assessment of grades may change some of these standings and that other names may be added. Such additions will be noted on transcripts and diplomas.

Students graduating Summa Cum Laude have attained a cumulative grade point average of 3.8. Students graduating Magna Cum Laude have attained a cumulative grade point average of 3.5. Students graduating Cum Laude have attained a cumulative grade point average of 3.2. Honor students are acknowledged by the wearing of Honor Cords around their necks. Students graduating Summa Cum Laude wear a triple-braided strand of gold, blue and white; students graduating Magna Cum Laude wear a double strand of blue and white; and students graduating Cum Laude wear a double strand of gold. Students wearing gold stoles are members of Phi Theta Kappa, the International Honor Society for community colleges. Students wearing sapphire blue stoles are members of Alpha Beta Gamma, the International Business Honor Society for community colleges. Students wearing dark blue stoles are members of Delta Psi Omega National Theatre Honor Society. Also, wearing distinctive red, white and blue cords are graduates who are veterans having served honorably.

Community College of Philadelphia reserves the right to add or withdraw names from the list of candidates for associate degrees and certificates since final action cannot be taken before this program goes to press.

With Gratitude

Commencement is the culmination of hard work and determination demonstrated by students, and this accomplishment illuminates the dedication of all faculty and staff to student success.

Planning, organizing and managing the Commencement day celebration brings together individuals from across the institution who work as a cohesive team, committed to honoring graduates for reaching this milestone. The College wishes to thank all of you for your efforts, creativity, energy and attention to detail. This day is a proud reminder of what is possible when our community comes together.

Community College of Philadelphia is committed to the principles of equal employment and equal educational opportunity and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, ancestry, creed, national origin, age, sexual preference, religion, sex/gender, individuals with disabilities, protected veterans, marital status, genetic information or any other protected category under the applicable local, state or federal law. Any questions regarding this statement should be directed to Leila Lawrence, Director/Title IX Coordinator, Room M2-7; telephone number 215-751-8036.
